About Us

Fat Daddio's is a Spokane, Washington based manufacturer of professional-grade anodized aluminum bakeware and pastry tools. The company began in 1968 when a McDonnell Douglas engineer built a better cookie sheet for his wife and has since produced tens of millions of pans sold in more than 5,000 retail locations across over 60 countries.

Anodized bakeware is our craft. We build anodized aluminum pans for bakers who want the same result tomorrow that they got today. No extra coatings or chemicals, no surprises in the oven. Only steady, consistent performance. Built for daily use in home and commercial kitchens.

We Make Bakeware

Fat Daddio's is more than an endearing name. It is a trusted one. We are a Pacific Northwest company manufacturing bakeware and pastry tools, and supplying chefs, bakeries, and foodservice teams with products that deliver professional results every day.

We believe baking is about more than bakeware, it is about people and the celebrations that bring us together. While we proudly serve wholesale and foodservice industries, our mission goes further: to create value, provide quality craftsmanship, offer exceptional service, build partnerships, and nurture a passionate baking community.

Our products are daily trusted by home bakers, restaurants, bakeries, coffee shops, hotels, caterers and foodservice professionals worldwide. Experience the difference in your own kitchen or partner with us today.

Anodized Aluminum

We are known for our industry-leading, anodized aluminum bakeware. It is the ideal baking surface due to its:

- Durability
- Non-reactive properties
- Even heat-distribution
- Easy-release from its smooth surface
- Pure composition, free of extra materials or chemicals
- Sustainability with bakeware built to last, reducing waste
- Energy efficiency, making it environmentally friendly
- Cost-effectiveness

These are the last baking pans you will ever need.

Custom Manufacturing

Custom Bakeware

Bring us your shape, specs, and painpoints. We will engineer custom solutions for your business.

We design and manufacture custom bakeware for brands and bakeries that need signature shapes, proprietary sizes, better throughput, durable construction, cleaner release and consistent color.

If it needs to heat evenly, stack well, wash well, and last, we can build it for you.

- Proprietary cake and dessert pan sizes for standardized portions
- High-volume sheet and tray systems for production lines
- Modular systems for transport-ready solutions
- Specialty molds for seasonal or signature bakes
- Pan systems designed to fit existing racks, ovens, and automation flows

Product Compliance

Fat Daddio's anodized aluminum pans are PFAS-free. The finish is not an applied coating. Anodizing converts the aluminum surface itself into a hardened oxide layer, leaving nothing that can chip, flake, or leach into food. While we specialize in anodizing aluminum, we are experienced with stainless steel, silicone and other materials and metals. We complete supplier questionnaires and compliance documentation requests directly. Additional testing is available to meet your specific requirements and is scoped and quoted upon request.

Supply Chain Positive

Our commitment to excellence is not just limited to our products. We prioritize a positive supply chain, starting with an industry-managed demand forecast. Through every stage, from rolled raw materials to packaging design, our vertical integration ensures impeccable quality and cost controls. Working hand-in-hand with our distribution and shipping partners, we proudly meet the domestic and global demand for Fat Daddio's bakeware.

Beyond the Kitchen

While we have specialized in bakeware manufacturing in the baking and foodservice industry for decades, we also assist in diverse commercial and industrial applications.

We offer custom manufacturing with low minimum order quantities in our industry. Let us help you innovate and engineer your product concept solutions specific to your needs.
